

December 7, 2009

Subject -Pico Lift & Mr. David Morris Announcement of Purchase

Stellarton Technologies Inc (STI) is pleased to announce that they have reached and executed an agreement with David Morriss (owner) of “Pico Lift Systems” to purchase all of the Intellectual Property (IP) pertaining to Pico Lift and their Patent pending liquid lifting devices. Stellarton have also purchased the rights to manufacture, market, sell and service all components of the Pico Lift system. It should be noted that STI has purchased the IP and not the rights to the company or any of its liabilities.

Mr. Morriss has been retained on a contract basis to transition the Pico Lift System equipment and procedures into Stellarton as one of its complimentary liquid lifting solutions. Stellarton manufactures surface and down hole tools along with electronic controls for the purpose of De- watering gas wells and increasing efficiency and production from conventional oil wells including horizontal and deviated well bores.

Stellarton is a privately owned, fully integrated Canadian service company registered in the province of Alberta. Stellarton provides optimization through innovative equipment, excellent service & training with asset management applications.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Eric Laing", written in a cursive style.

Eric Laing
President, Stellarton Technologies Inc.